PARTNERSHIP & LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

The Energy InSites Symposium is the in-person gathering of the Energy InSites program, a joint intiative of CIER and The LEAP Group that supports First Nations, Inuit, and Métis communities across Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Yukon, the Northwest Territories, and Nunavut. The program supports communities to modernize buildings through energy assessments, deep retrofit planning, and funding support.

Over two days, November 25 & 26 at the Grey Eagle Resort and Casino, Tsuut'ina Nation the symposium will bring together Indigenous communities, Energy Champions, technical experts, funders, service providers, youth, and sector partners to share practical knowledge that has been gained over the last three years of the program. Through knowledge-sharing sessions, networking, and an interactive trade show, the symposium creates space for practical learning, relationship-building, and collaboration.

About Energy InSites

Energy InSites is a partnership between CIER and The LEAP Group that supports communities in advancing their own energy priorities and modernizing community buildings.

At the heart of Energy InSites is a relationship-based approach grounded in Indigenous leadership. The program helps communities understand how their buildings use energy, identify opportunities for energy efficiency and deep retrofits, and find and secure funding to move projects forward. This includes building energy assessments, retrofit planning, and support with funding identification and applications.

Support Indigenous-Led Energy Solutions

The Energy InSites program serves First Nations, Inuit, and Métis communities across the Prairies, Yukon, the Northwest Territories, and Nunavut. Over two days, the symposium will bring together approximately 200 participants from across the Energy InSites network to share knowledge, build relationships, and explore opportunities to advance Indigenous-led energy solutions.

Who you'll meet:

- Indigenous community representatives, leadership, and infrastructure staff who you'll meet
- Energy Champions hired through the Energy InSites program to support community activities
- Youth participants engaged in energy and capacity-building pathways
- Technical experts in building science, energy assessments, and retrofit work
- Funders, and financing partners, service providers, contractors, and energy advisors
- Sector partners working in energy, infrastructure, and sustainability

We invite you to join us as a partner in advancing Indigenous-led energy solutions and building a more energy-resilient future for communities.

Sponsorship Benefits

Advancing Indigenous-Led Energy Solutions:
Support communities in building the knowledge, capacity, and leadership needed to advance their own energy priorities, improve community buildings, reduce operating costs, and strengthen long-term energy resilience.

Supporting Energy Champions & Youth Leadership:
Help create opportunities for Indigenous Energy Champions and youth to develop skills, build leadership, and contribute to community energy and climate action.

Building Meaningful Relationships:
Connect with Indigenous communities, leadership, technical experts, funders, service providers, and sector partners while building meaningful relationships and opportunities for future collaboration.

Sharing Knowledge & Expertise
Showcase your organization's knowledge, expertise, and commitment to energy efficiency and sustainability while learning alongside communities, Knowledge Holders, and technical experts working to advance practical energy solutions.

Visibility & Recognition:
Increase your organization's visibility among approximately 200 participants working in Indigenous community energy, infrastructure, sustainability, and building retrofits. Sponsors will receive recognition through symposium materials, signage, digital communications, and other opportunities outlined in each partnership level.
