Accelerating Indigenous Community Energy Retrofits

TRADESHOW EXHIBITOR PACKAGE

SYMPOSIUM

November 25-26, 2026

Grey Eagle Resort and Casino
Tsuut'ina Nation, Calgary, Alberta

The Energy InSites Symposium brings together Indigenous communities, Energy Champions, technical experts, funders, service providers, youth, and sector partners for two days of practical learning, relationship-building, and collaboration.

Taking place November 25–26, 2026 at Grey Eagle Resort & Casino on Tsuut'ina Nation, the symposium's Tradeshow provides an opportunity for organizations working in energy, building retrofits, infrastructure, and sustainability to connect directly with the people leading this work in their communities.

Building Relationships

The Energy InSites Tradeshow is more than an opportunity to showcase products and services. It is a space to listen, learn, share knowledge, and build relationships with Indigenous communities and the people supporting their energy priorities.

Exhibiting provides an opportunity to:

- Connect with Indigenous community representatives, leadership, infrastructure staff, and Energy Champions involved in energy and retrofit planning.
- Learn about the priorities, opportunities, and challenges shaping community energy work.
- Share relevant technologies, services, expertise, and funding opportunities directly with communities and sector partners.
- Build relationships with funders, technical experts, contractors, energy advisors, and other organizations working in the sector.
- Demonstrate your organization's commitment to: Indigenous-led energy solutions and community-driven approaches.
- Increase your organization's visibility among approximately 200 participants working across Indigenous energy, infrastructure, building retrofits, and sustainability.
